ADA RAILS SAFETY RAILING FOR WHEELCHAIR SPACES

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) mandates that provisions must be made to accommodate wheelchair seating at school gymnasiums. One per cent of the total seating in a facility should be dedicated to individuals with disabilities. New construction or refurbished spectator seating must comply with the federal mandate.

- ADA rails are located behind the required cut-outs for wheelchair and companion seating
- Powder coated in a wide variety of colors
- Welded fabrication of 1-1/2-inch square tube steel
- Can be permanently attached or “recoverable*”
Recoverable refers to wheelchair spaces with ADA rails that are built into telescopic bleacher seating, but can be converted back into the standard seating configuration with a simple adjustment of the locking pins and removal of ADA rail.*

ADA Compliance Is Required By Law

The Americans with Disabilities Act, together with the ADA Amendment Act of 2008 (effective January 1, 2009) seeks to eliminate discrimination against individuals with disabilities.

There is a broad definition of who must comply with this mandate. Subchapter III, Sec. 12181 (definition), Public Accommodation states that the Act applies to “nursery, elementary, secondary, undergraduate, or postgraduate private schools, or other place of education.”

It covers any “gymnasium, health spa, bowling alley, golf course or other place of exercise or recreation.”

The Act also provides for “injunctive relief” allowing lawsuits to be brought against schools and/or other entities that do not meet ADA requirements.

Ask about safety pads for ADA rails. These provide closed cell foam padding with a vinyl cover that can be customized with your school colors and mascot.
